DZ12

Perfect hot chocolate

DZ12 does one thing and it does it to perfection: it is a patented machine for the preparation of hot chocolate using single-serving sachets or cost saving multi-serving tubs and bags.

The DZ12 is an alternative to traditional machines offering extra hot drink options alongside your main selling coffee. Giving you and your customers a wider variety of choice.

- Automatic management and programmed cycles
- Steam function to heat hot beverages or soup
- Single serve system eliminates waste

ATENA UP

Hot chocolate in an instant

Atena Up is the most advanced hot beverages machine in the industry: it is the first dispenser for instant drinks that can be managed directly from a smartphone or the Internet, guaranteeing total control of the machine in a simple, safe manner.

Our technology allows easy, instant, remote control of temperatures and doses, letting you program drinks and record details of drinks dispensed, wherever you are.

The Atena Up can be controlled using either the app or a dedicated web platform, which can also be used to monitor an entire fleet of machines.
